Upcoming Literacy Volunteers Workshops

Many adults in Atlantic and Cape May Counties have difficulty reading and writing, or speaking and understanding English. You can give these people the gift of literacy by becoming a volunteer tutor for Literacy Volunteers Assn. Cape-Atlantic, Inc.

Shore Memorial Hospital

4 Stainton Room-4th Floor

Somers Point, NJ

When: 5 consecutive Saturday mornings

Time: 9:30 am to 12:30 pm

Dates: March 3, 10, 17, 24, and 31

ACUA Recycling Center

Upstairs Conference Room

Delilah Rd.

5 Consecutive Tuesday evenings

6:00 pm to 9:00 pm

April 17, 24, May 1, 8, and 15

Volunteer Requirements

High school education, completion of all training sessions, commitment to tutoring a student for 2 hours per week for a minimum of 50 hours per year. Some travel within the county may be necessary to go where the need is. Meetings with your student may take place in public buildings such as libraries, churches, schools, etc., many of which have reasonably private meeting rooms or areas that can be used for tutoring sessions.

Preparation time for each tutoring session, attendance at various LVA functions and communication with the LVA office are features of the commitment a tutor makes in addition to tutoring a student. Please consider these commitments carefully before registering for tutor training.

Certification

Volunteers who complete this training program will be pinned as Certified Tutors by Literacy Volunteers Association Cape-Atlantic, Inc. This will enable the volunteer to tutor in this program with the support of the local affiliate or with any affiliate of ProLiteracy America, Inc. throughout New Jersey and nationwide.

Registration

Please fill out and mail the attached Registration Form and a $30 deposit (check or money order) to Literacy Volunteers to be officially registered for the workshop. The check is refundable at graduation or on returning course materials if the course is not completed.

There are many reasons why adults can't read - Be the reason they can!

ANY QUESTIONS, PLEASE CALL (609) 383-3377
Confirmation will be made upon receipt of registration form.
